Call for Papers

Eighth Maritime Heritage Conference

San Diego, October 9 – 12, 2007

The 8th Maritime Heritage Conference will be held in San Diego, California, Tuesday October 9 through Friday October 12, 2007. The conference will be hosted by the Maritime Museum of San Diego. Sessions will be held on board the Museum's fleet of historic vessels, as well as the nearby USS Midway. The Maritime Heritage Conference is a triennial event. Over 500 persons attended the 2004 conference held in Norfolk, Virginia. We expect a similar number to attend the San Diego conference. General information and updates on the conference program and accommodations can be found on the Maritime Museum's website at: www.sdmaritime.org.

The Conference Program Committee invites abstracts for individual papers (15-30 minutes in length) and session proposals (three or four papers in 75 minutes). Papers may address a specific subject or aspects of the broader themes of the conference. Among the themes the conference will focus on are:

Oceanic Trade and Communications - National Marine Sanctuaries - Marine Art
- Shipbuilding - Ship Preservation - Small Craft - Lighthouses and Lifesaving Stations
- Historic Ships - Underwater Archaeology - Maritime Libraries and Museums -
Maritime Heritage Education

Abstracts should be typed and consist of no more than one single-spaced page. Each abstract must be accompanied by a CV of no more than three pages. Abstracts and CVs are due no later than June 1, 2007. Abstracts should clearly outline the paper's argumentation, its place within the broader themes in maritime history above, the umbrella organization to which the presenter belongs (if applicable), as well as the paper's estimated time limit. Abstracts should be sent, preferably by email, to:
